Jonathan is at the supermarket. He is buying a lot of things because he doesn't want to go shopping every day. First, he needs things for the bathroom: toilet paper, soap and a toothbrush. Then, he needs some food: eggs, bacon, bread, milk, butter and honey. For his lunch he is getting some meat, pasta, potatoes and some rice. He also needs salt. He is going to buy some fruit: apples, a watermelon, tomatoes, strawberries and bananas. He also has to buy some candy like chocolate or ice cream. He will buy some orange juice and some bottled water. Uff! He is going to need a lot of money for everything he wants to buy.
